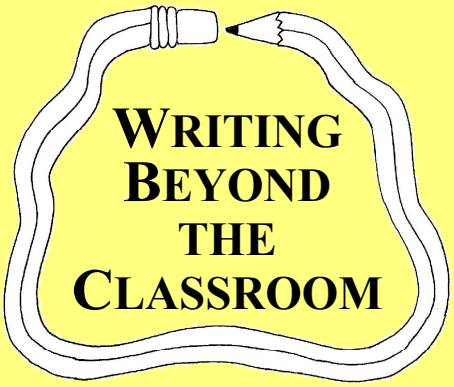
THE THOMPSON WRITING PROGRAM
INVITES UNDERGRADUATES TO THE FIRST ANNUAL

Duke Writes Symposium

THE THEME OF THIS YEAR'S SYMPOSIUM IS WRITING BEYOND THE CLASSROOM, GIVING UPPER CLASS STUDENTS A UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY TO PRACTICE APPLYING THEIR ACADEMIC WRITING SKILLS TO NEW SITUATIONS BEYOND CONVENTIONAL COURSE WORK.



Friday, November 4 from 1 to 5 PM Perkins Library

All Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors are eligible, and attendance is free of charge.

To ensure personal attention in the small concurrent sessions, the number of participants is limited so apply early!

USE THE ONLINE APPLICATION

HTTP://TWP.DUKE.EDU/UNDERGRADUATE/DUKE-WRITES-SYMPOSIUM

Apply by October 7

TO APPLY FOR ONE OF FIVE CONCURRENT SESSIONS:

1. Writing Science: Get help writing about your research in science - whether in a research proposal, an application to graduate or medical school, or a publishable paper.
2. Writing into Medicine: Learn how to write a personal essay to help you get into medical school.
3. Editing Boot Camp: Bring a piece of your writing and learn strategies to improve clarity and conciseness.
4. Beyond Blogs: Use writing to reflect and build on your experience studying abroad or in DukeEngage.
5. From Research to Senior Thesis: Learn how to move from your data to a first draft of your thesis.

SYMPOSIUM SCHEDULE	1:00—2:00 pm:	Registration and Plenary Session (lunch served)
	2:15—3:45 pm:	Concurrent sessions meet
	4:00—5:00 pm:	Closing Reception

HTTP://TWP.DUKE.EDU/UNDERGRADUATE/DUKE-WRITES-SYMPOSIUM

THE DUKE WRITES SYMPOSIUM: WRITING BEYOND THE CLASSROOM
IS SPONSORED BY
THE THOMPSON WRITING PROGRAM,
DUKE UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES AND
THE VICE PROVOST FOR UNDERGRADUATE EDUCATION