Class Meeting Time and Location: Friday, 10:15 a.m. - 12:45 p.m., 114 Languages

Office Hours: I will be available on Thursday evenings for a drop-in Zoom from 7-8 PM (Meeting ID966 9668 7729). In addition, you should contact me if you are interested in an individual appointment.

Course Description: This course is designed to introduce students to various legal issues facing the educational system in this country. Included for consideration and discussion will be such topics as first amendment rights (religious freedom and free speech); Title IX; due process, both procedural and substantive; liability of educational institutions and educators (negligence); contractual rights and obligations; and, student, staff, faculty and parental rights and privacy. Whenever possible, legal distinctions will be made between elementary/secondary settings and institutions of higher education as well as between private and public institutions.

Course Materials: There is no textbook; please consult the syllabus for cases to read each week.

Course Requirements: Each student is required to:

1). Submit a brief (5% of your grade) for the case* that has been assigned to you and be prepared to lead the discussion of that case in class. The required format and contents of this assignment will be reviewed in class. The brief is due on the day the case is discussed in class and should include a section that outlines the implications of the case for K-12 and/or higher education today;

2). Submit a one-to-two page reflection on April 30, writing your thoughts/impressions about one of the Amendments, cases or legal concepts we discussed in class during the semester and its impact (as you perceive it) on K-12 and/or higher education (5% of your grade);

3). Write a persuasive, comprehensive appellate brief to include all legal arguments (45% of your grade). Pairs of students will be assigned the role of plaintiff or defendant in a relevant, education law case. Cases will be provided to students on February 5. You are invited to submit an outline and a first draft. The final brief is due on the last day of class (April 23). In addition to the brief, each pair is required to make an oral presentation of his/her research/brief to the class; OR,

Write a comprehensive summary and analysis (10 to 15 double-spaced pages, due on April 23) of a current legal issue or case (45% of your grade), outlining the current status of the law as defined by the courts. In addition, each student is required to make an oral presentation of his/her research (approximately 10-15 minutes) to the class. Topics must be approved by the instructor;

4). Complete two take-home quizzes (30% of your grade), responding to a hypothetical situation;

5). By the Thursday prior to class, identify and send out an article about a legal issue that has been featured recently in The Chronicle of Higher Education, Insidehighered.com or a comparable publication (5% of your grade). Each student will be responsible on one of these days to select and lead the discussion about the article that will be discussed; and,

6). Attend class. Since class participation is an integral part of this course (10% of your grade), attendance is in your best interest

Embedded Writing Consultant: We’re lucky this semester to be paired with an Embedded Writing Consultant, Kelis Johnson. Kelis will be available to provide the same type of collaborative, non-evaluative writing consultations that you can get in the Writing Studio, with the benefit of being assigned to work exclusively with our class. Kelis is familiar with the assignment requirements particular to this class, but is not involved in the grading process. I’ll be talking more with you about the particular ways in which you’ll be interacting with our Kelis as our semester gets underway. You will be required to meet with her at least two times.

Reader’s Project: Stay tuned for information about how Duke alums can be helpful to you in this class.

The Duke Compact recognizes our shared responsibility for our collective health and well-being. Please be reminded that by signing your name to this pledge, you have acknowledged that you understand the conditions for being on campus. These include complying with university, state, and local requirements and acting to protect yourself and those around you. For complete language and updated policies, please visit https://returnto.duke.edu/compact/.

Duke Community Standard

All students, whether residing on campus or learning remotely, must adhere to the Duke Community Standard (DCS): Duke University is a community dedicated to scholarship, leadership, and service and to the principles of honesty, fairness, and accountability. Citizens of this community commit to reflect upon these principles in all academic and non-academic endeavors, and to protect and promote a culture of integrity.

To uphold the Duke Community Standard:
Students affirm their commitment to uphold the values of the Duke University community by signing a pledge that states:
I will not lie, cheat, or steal in my academic endeavors;
I will conduct myself honorably in all my endeavors;
I will act if the Standard is compromised.

Regardless of course delivery format, it is the responsibility of all students to understand and follow Duke policies regarding academic integrity, including doing one’s own work, following proper citation of sources, and adhering to guidance around group work projects. Ignoring these requirements is a violation of the Duke Community Standard. If you have any questions about how to follow these requirements, please contact Jeanna McCullers, Director of the Office of Student Conduct.
Mental Health and Wellness Resources

If your mental health concerns and/or stressful events negatively affect your daily emotional state, academic performance, or ability to participate in your daily activities, many resources are available to you, including ones listed below. Duke encourages all students to access these resources, particularly as we navigate the transition and emotions associated with this time.
Duke Student Government has worked with DukeReach and student advocates to create the Fall 2020 “Two-Click Support” Form, and Duke Reach has expanded its drop in hours as well.

• DukeReach. Provides comprehensive outreach services to identify and support students in managing all aspects of wellbeing. If you have concerns about a student’s behavior or health visit the website for resources and assistance. http://studentaffairs.duke.edu/dukereach

• Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS). CAPS services include individual, group, and couples counseling services, health coaching, psychiatric services, and workshops and discussions. (919) 660-1000

• Blue Devils Care. A convenient and cost-effective way for Duke students to receive 24/7 mental health support through TalkNow. bluedevilscare.duke.edu

Managing daily stress and self-care are also important to well-being. Duke offers several resources for students to both seek assistance on coursework and improve overall wellness, some of which are listed below. Wellness Day 2021

In lieu of a traditional class meeting on April 12, 2021, please use your regular class time to engage in reflection and wellness endeavors. A list of wellness strategies and programs is available at https://studentaffairs.duke.edu/duwell/wellness-day-2021 and will be updated throughout the spring.

Although the goal of Wellness Day 2021 is to provide time and space to engage in activities that enhance your well-being, please remember that wellness isn’t achieved in one day. Balancing your personal, professional, and academic commitments is a skill that should be practiced regularly and over time.

Accessibility

In addition to accessibility issues experienced during the typical academic year, I recognize that remote learning may present additional challenges (please note that the plan is for our class to meet in-person). Students may be experiencing unreliable wi-fi, lack of access to quiet study spaces, varied time-zones, or additional responsibilities while studying at home. If you are experiencing these or other difficulties, please contact me to discuss possible accommodations.

Technology Accommodations
Students with demonstrated high financial need who may have limited access to computers and stable internet may request assistance in the form of loaner laptops and WIFI hotspots. For new Spring 2021 technology assistance requests, please go here. Please note that supplies are limited. For updates, please visit https://keeplearning.duke.edu/undergraduate-students/

Academic Accommodations
The Student Disability Access Office (SDAO) will continue to be available to ensure that students are able to engage with their courses and related assignments. Students should be in touch with the Student Disability Access Office to request or update accommodations under these circumstances. Zoom has the ability to provide live closed captioning. If you are not seeing this, and but would like to see this feature, please reach out to your instructor for assistance.

Accommodations for Remote Students
If students cannot participate in synchronous or in-person course components (due to permanent time zone differences or temporary quarantine, for example), students should contact the instructor and academic dean to request an accommodation that will allow them to participate remotely. Please note that the experience may not be identical to that of local students.

Inclement Weather and Attendance Policies

Inclement Weather Policy
In the event of inclement weather or other connectivity-related events that prohibit class attendance, either in the location of the instructor or in the location of the student, I will notify you how we will make up missed course content and work. Asynchronous catch-up methods will likely apply.

Possible Flexible Attendance Policy
Responsibility for class attendance rests with individual students. Since regular and punctual class attendance is expected, students must accept the consequences of failure to attend. However, in recognition of possible extra personal and academic stress this semester, I will grant an additional excused absence, provided you discuss the absence with me and agree to make up missed work. More details on Trinity attendance policies are available here. More details on Pratt attendance policies are available here.

Technical Support and Video Recording Rules

Assistance with Zoom or Sakai
For technical help with Sakai or Zoom, contact the Duke OIT Service Desk at https://oit.duke.edu/help. You can also access the self-service help documentation for Zoom and for Sakai. The ARC (Academic Resource Center) has a student-friendly learning online guide and Zoom instructions. Look on the sidebar on the left.

Rules for Video Recording Course Content

Student recording of lectures must be permitted by the instructor and shall be for private study only. Such recordings shall not be distributed to anyone else without authorization by the instructor whose lecture has been recorded. However, the instructor may arrange through the Office of Information Technology to make recorded lectures available to students enrolled in the class on such terms and conditions as he or she prescribes. Unauthorized distribution is a cause for disciplinary action by the Judicial Board. The full policy on recording of lectures falls under the Duke University Policy on Intellectual Property Rights, available here: https://provost.duke.edu/sites/default/files/FHB_App_P.pdf
