WRITING STUDIO CONFERENCES

The Writing Studio offers you individualized conferences focused on your writing concerns. Through collaborative discussions, our consultants support you to further develop your writing processes as well as your writing projects.

Our consultants can support you at any stage of the writing process — from brainstorming to drafting and revising a text.

You can visit our Writing Studio website to learn about types of appointments offered, see the schedule, and make your appointment.

GRADUATE STUDENT WRITING LAB

The Writing Studio and Graduate School have teamed to create this dedicated writing space for graduate students several days a week. Students are welcome to work on their dissertations or other writing projects individually or in groups.

A Writing Studio consultant is available for brief consultations with participants during each lab session.

Visit our Writing Studio website for additional details.

WRITING STUDIO RESOURCES

The Writing Studio offers numerous online resources to help you improve your texts and writing process.

Tour the Writing Resources on our Writing Studio website. Here you will find support for Writing as a process, Working with sources, Writing for specific disciplines, and Genres of writing as well as a section devoted to resources on ESL/EFL (multilingual) concerns.

Handouts provided for you include:

- Developing a central claim
- Annotated bibliography
- Paragraphing: The MEAL plan
- Reverse outlining

INTERNATIONAL CONVERSATION GROUP

Join our weekly conversation gatherings. Relax while discussing current events, world cultures, and local customs with participants from around the world.

Our conversations bring together students and other Duke community members during fall and spring semester. Gatherings are facilitated by Rene Caputo, our ESL specialist.

For more information, email r.caputo@duke.edu

DUKEWRITES SUITE

Our DukeWrites Suite website provides video modules offering support on writing, citation practices, and academic integrity. The suite also provides screencast tutorials that guide you on using digital resources to improve word choice, pronunciation, and more. Transcripts are provided.
